

Defence: assessments and considerations

General Jérôme BORDELLÈS

Saint-Cyrien of the “Lieutenant TOM MOREL” promotion (1987-1990), General Jérôme Bordellès has been assigned to the General Directorate of Digital and Information and Communication Systems (DGNUM) since August 1, 2018, where he takes up the functions of general officer in charge of frequencies of the Ministry of the Armed Forces. Within the Army and in various joint organizations, he held numerous positions of high responsibility in the field of information and communications systems (SIC) : commander of the 48th signals regiment, head of the SIC office of the Operations Planning and Control Center of the Armed Forces General Staff, deputy general operations of the Information and Communication Systems Command of the forces of the Land Force. He participated in several operations in his field of specialty, in Lebanon, Chad, Djibouti and Guyana.

A graduate of the Ecole de Guerre, an engineer from the National School of Aeronautics and Space (space telecommunications option), he also has a MASTER in geostrategy and industrial dynamics from ASSAS-PARIS II University. He was finally an auditor within the NATO Defense College.

